Ever Wonder ...?

Why Google Maps don't have an Avoid Ghetto routing option?

Why resistance is futile when it comes to chocolate?

Why if we all threw our problems in a pile and saw everyone else's, we'd want to grab ours back?

HE'S THE B'Y THAT BUILD THE BOAT

This musical tribute was a big hit at Victor's Celebration of Life (traditional Newfoundland – sort of – modified by Steven)

Chorus

*Ohhhh ..... He's the b'y that build the boat
And he's the b'y that sails her,
And he's the b'y that catch the fish
And take it home to Hazel.*

Victor Carpen-ter's a name that lives with us forever.
He built so many pretty boats at which he was so clever.
Victor built the Passing Wind and Hazel did the varnish.
And when they hit the racing course
You should have seen the carnage.
Now Victor really loved a joke, the more corrupt the better
And he could file away the jokes, remembered to the letter.
Also Vic loved motor bikes, especially the Harley.
He loved the music that it made, it was so very snarly.
But looming greatest in his life was his beloved Hazel.
So many years she was his wife whose varnish work could dazzle.
Coffee Grinder, Golden Goose, the Era and the O-Race
rolling down the launching ways, a smile on every face.
As far as Victor was concerned, the more it blew the better.
Spray and spume and foam and rain, the water made it wetter.
Now we say good-bye to Victor and we're most unhappy.
But now he's somewhere on the Bay,
we know where he'll be happy.
